

LeRoy Perea

A native of Albuquerque, New Mexico, LeRoy Perea has been a professional photographer for the past 40 years. As a member of Technical Staff at Sandia Labs, he worked as a scientific photographer using high-speed photography in a data acquisition capacity. LeRoy also owned and operated a portrait studio doing weddings family portraits and other commercial photography. For the past nine years he has been teaching Photographic Lighting, Fine Art photography and Competition Image Critique in Albuquerque. He has judged the New Mexico Arts and Crafts Fair and many other photography competition events. His involvement in the professional photography community also consists of serving as President of the IPSW (Imaging Photographers of the Southwest), President of the Albuquerque Guild of Professional Photographers and on the Board of Director for the PPNM (Professional Photographers Association of New Mexico). He has received numerous awards including the coveted Professional Photographers of America National Award for Meritorious Contributions to Professional Photography.

LeRoy Perea is the founder of the Annual New Mexico Photographic Art Show (ANMPAS), the InSight-NM Show and the Shades of Gray B&W show. He created these events in order to showcase the work of New Mexico photographers and to give them a venue for displaying their art to the general public.

Trish Meyer

Trish Meyer, a native of Dublin, Ireland, has enjoyed a variety of creative careers from musician, to magazine art director, to motion graphics designer for film and television. She has co-authored, with her husband Chris, a series of best-selling books and videos for learning Adobe After Effects.

After moving from Los Angeles to New Mexico in 2008, Trish has focused on fine art, primarily printmaking with a blend of calligraphic marks and hi-tech digital imagery. She is currently President of Escribiente (Albuquerque's Calligraphy Society) and also serves on the Governing Council for MACCS (Media Arts Collaborative Charter School) in Nob Hill. Trish was nominated by Weyrich Gallery as their 2018 Local Treasure; her solo show, Critical Points, opens First Friday, September 7th.